 - (vii) a sum due to any member of a company in his character of a member, by way of dividends, profits or otherwise, shall not be deemed to be a debt of the company payable to that member in a case of competition between himself and any other creditor not a member of the company; but any such sum may be taken into account for the purpose of the final adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves.
- (b) In the winding up of a company limited by guarantee which has a share capital, every member of the company shall be liable, in addition to the amount undertaken to be contributed by him to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound up, to contribute to the extent of any sums unpaid on any shares held by him.

In the winding up of a limited company any director, whether past or present, whose liability is, in pursuance of this law or under the constitution of the company, unlimited, shall, in addition to his liability (if any) to contribute as an ordinary member, be liable to make a further contribution as if he were at the commencement of the winding up a member of an unlimited company. However:

- (a) a past director shall not be liable to make such further contribution if he has ceased to hold office for a year or upwards before the commencement of the winding up;
- (b) a past director shall not be liable to make such further contribution in respect of any debt or liability of the company contracted after he has ceased to hold office;
- (c) subject to the constitution of the company a director shall not be liable to make such further contribution unless the court deems it necessary to require that contribution in order to satisfy the debts and liabilities of the company, and the costs, charges and expenses of the winding up.

- (b) If the legal representatives or heirs make default in paying any money ordered to be paid by them, proceedings may be taken for administering the property of deceased contributory, whether immovable, or both and of compelling payment thereof of the money due.

Matter in case of insolvency of member

297. If a contributory is adjudged insolvent either before or after he has been placed on the list of contributories, then:

- (a) his assignees shall represent him for all the purposes of the winding up, and shall be contributories accordingly, and may be called on to admit to proof against the estate of the insolvent, or otherwise to allow to be paid out of his assets in due course of law, any money due from the insolvent in respect of his liability to assets of the company, and

Winding up may be referred to subordinate courts

300. Where a court makes an order for winding up a company under this law, it may, if it thinks fit, direct all subsequent proceedings to be had in a subordinate court and thereupon such court shall, for the purpose of winding up the company, be deemed to be “the court” within the meaning of this law, and shall have, for the purposes of such winding up, all the jurisdiction and powers of the subordinate court.

(c) subject to the retention of such sums as may be necessary for the costs and expenses of the winding up, the foregoing debts shall be discharged forthwith so far as the assets are sufficient to meet them.

Disclaimer of property

392. (a) where any part of the property of a company which is being wound up consists of land of any tenure burdened with onerous covenants, of shares or stock in companies, of unprofitable contracts, or of any other property that is unsaleable, or not readily saleable, by reason of its binding the possessor thereof to the performance of any onerous act, or to the payment of any sum of money, the liquidator of the company, notwithstanding that he has endeavoured to sell or has taken possession of the property, or exercised any act of ownership in relation thereto, may, with the leave of the court and subject to the provisions of this section, by writing signed by him, at any time within twelve months after the commencement of the winding up or such extended period as may be allowed by the court, disclaim the property.

Provided that, where any such property has not come to the knowledge of the liquidator within 28 days after the commencement of the winding up, the power under this section of disclaiming the property may be exercised at any time within twelve months after he has become aware thereof or such extended period as may be allowed by the court.

- (b) the disclaimer shall operate to determine, as from the date of disclaimer, the rights, interests, and liabilities of the company, and the property of the company, in or in respect of the property disclaimed, but shall not, except so far as is necessary for the purpose of releasing the company and the property of the company from liability, affect the rights or liabilities of any person.
- (c) the court, before or on granting permission to disclaim, may require such notices to be given to persons interested, and impose such terms as a condition of granting permission, and make such other order in the matter as the court thinks just.
- (d) the liquidator shall not be entitled to disclaim any property under this section in any case where an application in writing has been made to him by any persons interested in the property requiring him to decide whether he will or will not disclaim, and the liquidator has not, within a period of 28 days after the receipt of the application or such further period as may be allowed by the court, given a notice to the applicant that he intends to apply to the court for leave to disclaim, and in the case of a contract, if the liquidator, after such an application as aforesaid, does not, within the said period or further period, disclaim the contract, the company shall be deemed to have adopted it.
- (e) the court may, on the application of any person who is, as against the liquidator, entitled to the benefit or subject to the burden of a contract made with the company, make an order rescinding the contract on such terms as to payment by or to either party of damages for the nonperformance of the contract, or otherwise as the court thinks just, and any damages payable under the order to any such person may be proved by him as a debt in the winding up.

- (f) the court may, on an application by any person who either claims any interest in any disclaimed property or is under any liability not discharged by this law in respect of any disclaimed property, and on hearing any such persons as it thinks fit, make an order for the vesting of the property in or the delivery of the property to any persons entitled thereto, or to whom it may seem just that the property should be delivered by way of compensation for such liability as aforesaid, or a trustee for him, and on such terms as the court thinks just, and on any such vesting order being made the property comprised therein shall vest accordingly in the person therein named in that behalf without any conveyance or assignment for the purpose.

Provided that, where the property disclaimed is of a leasehold nature, the court shall not make a vesting order in favour of any person claiming under the company whether as under-lessee or as mortgagee except upon the terms of making that person:

- (i) subject to the same liabilities and obligations as those to which the company is subject under the lease in respect of property at the commencement of the winding up; or
 - (ii) if the court thinks fit, subject only to the same liabilities and obligations as if the lease has been assigned to that person at that date and in either event if the case so required as if the lease has comprised only the property comprised in the vesting order, and any mortgagee or under-lessee declining to accept a vesting order upon such terms shall be excluded from all interest in and security upon the property, and, if there is no person claiming under the company who is willing to accept an order upon such terms, the court shall have power to vest the estate and interest of the company in the property in any person liable, either personally or in a representative character, and either alone or jointly with the company, to perform the lessee's covenants in the lease, freed and discharged from all estates, encumbrances and interests created therein by the company.
- (g) any person injured by the operation of a disclaimer under this section shall be deemed to be a creditor of the company to the amount of the injury, and may accordingly prove the amount as a debt in the winding up.

Fraudulent preference

393. (a) any transfer, delivery of goods, payment, execution or other act relating to property which would, if made or done by or against an individual, be deemed in his insolvency a fraudulent preference, shall, if made or done by or against a company, be deemed, in the event of its being wound up, a fraudulent preference of its creditors, and be invalid accordingly.

(b) for the purposes of this section the presentation of a petition for winding up in the case of a winding up by or subject to the supervision of the court, and a resolution for winding up in the case of a voluntary winding up, shall be deemed to correspond with the act of insolvency in the case of an individual.

(c) any transfer or assignment by a company of all its property to trustees for the benefit of all its creditors shall be void.

Avoidance of certain attachments and executions

394. (a) where any company is being wound up by or subject to the supervision of the court, any attachment, distress or execution put in force without permission of the court against the estate or effects, or any sale held without permission of the court of any of the properties, of the company after the commencement of the winding up shall be void.

(b) nothing in this section applies to proceedings by the government.

Effect of floating charge

395. General scheme of liquidation may be sanctioned

396. (a) The liquidator may, with the sanction of the court when the company is being wound up by the court or subject to the supervision of the court, and with the sanction of a special resolution of the company in the case of a voluntary winding up, do the following things or any of them:

company and a contributory, or alleged contributory or other debtor or person apprehending liability to the company, and all questions in any way relating to or affecting the assets or the winding up of the company, on such terms as may be agreed, and take any security for the discharge of any such call, debt, liability or claim, and give a complete discharge in respect thereof.

Power of a court to assess damages against delinquent directors

397. (a) where, in the course of winding up a company, it appears that any person who has taken part in the formation or promotion of the company, or any past or present director or liquidator, or any officer of the company has misapplied or retained or become liable or accountable for any money or property of the company, or been guilty of any misfeasance or breach of trust in relation to the company, the court may, on the application of the liquidator or of any creditor or contributory, made within three years from the date of the first appointment of a liquidator in the winding up, or of the misapplication, retainer, misfeasance or breach of trust, as the case may be, whichever is longer, examine into conduct of the promoter, director, liquidator or officer, and compel such person to repay or restore the money or property or any part thereof respectively with interest at such rate as the court thinks just, or to contribute such sum to the assets of the company by way of compensation in respect of the misapplication, retainer, misfeasance or breach of trust as the court thinks just.

(b) The provision of this section shall apply notwithstanding that the offence is one for which the offender may be criminally responsible.

Penalty for falsification of books

398. If any director, officer or contributory of any company being wound up destroys, mutilates, alters or falsifies or fraudulently secrets any books, papers or securities, or makes, or is privy to the making of, any false or fraudulent entry in any register, book of account or document belonging to the company with intent to defraud or deceive any person, such director, officer or contributory shall be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

(d) if on any report to the registrar under sub-section (b) it appears to the registrar that the case is not one in which proceedings ought to be taken by the registrar, the registrar shall inform the liquidator accordingly, and thereupon, subject to the previous sanction of the court, the liquidator may take proceedings against the offender.

(e) if it appears to the court in the course of a voluntary winding up that any past or present director or other officer, or any member, of the company has been guilty as aforesaid, and that no report with respect to the matter has been made by the liquidator to the registrar, the court may, on the application of any person interested in the winding up or of its own motion, direct the liquidator to make such a report and on a report being made accordingly the provisions of this section shall have effect as though the report has been made in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (b).

For the purposes of this sub-section, the expression “agent” in relation to a company shall be deemed to include any banker or legal adviser of the company and any person employed by the company as auditor, whether that person is or is not an officer of the company.

Penalty for false evidence

400. If any person, upon examination upon oath authorized under this law, or in any affidavit, deposition or solemn affirmation, in or about the winding up of any company under this law, or otherwise in or about any matter arising under this law, intentionally gives wrong evidence, such person shall be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, and also be liable to fine.
